The City Council to Consider Food Conservation Ordinance

Frederick Ordinance Suggested as a
Pattern for Durant City Council—Makes Observance of Food Administration's
Rules Obligatory.

The Durant Weekly News has secured from Mayor Z. Z. Rogers of Frederick, Okla., a copy of the ordinance recently passed in that city making it a misdemeanor to fail to observe the rules of the Food Administration as to food conservation, and rules that may hereafter be made by the administration. The Frederick ordinance assesses a fine for violation of from one dollar to one hundred dollars, with cost of prosecution.

The editor of the News has talked with a large number of people as to the passage of such an ordinance in Durant, and it is our firm belief that public opinion is in a large majority in favor of such an ordinance.

The Frederick ordinance is as follows:

"An Ordinance Regulating the Consumption, Storage of Food, and Place in Force and Make Effective Any Order Issued or Request Made by the Food or Fuel Administration of the United States, or Any Subdivision Thereof; and Declaring an Emergency:

"Sec. 1. That it shall hereafter be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation at and within the corporate limits of the City of Frederick, Oklahoma, to violate or refuse to observe or obey, any order, request, measure, or proclamation, now in force or hereafter made, issued or proclaimed by the Federal, State or County Council of Defense, by the Federal, State or County Fuel Administration, or by the Federal, State or County Food Administration, or any other regularly constituted Government board or officer, now in existence or hereafter created for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the American Nation in the present war with the Imperial German Government and her allies, or for the conservation of food, fuel, or other National resource necessary in the prosecution of said war, so long as the United States of America shall be engaged in the same.

"Sec. 2. It shall be unlawful for and person or individual to procure or attempt to procure any other person, firm, or corporation to violate any of the provisions of the foregoing section of this ordinance.

"Sec. 3. Any person violating any of the provisions of the above and foregoing ordinance, shall, upon conviction in the police court of said city, be fined not less than One Dollar ($1.00) nor more than One Hundred Dollars ($100.00), and the costs of prosecution.

"Sec. 4. For the preservation of the public peace, health and safety of said City and the inhabitants thereof, an emergency is hereby declared to exist, whereof it is deemed necessary that this ordinance be and become in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication as required by law.

"Passed on final reading by the City Council at its chambers in Frederick, Oklahoma, this 22nd day of January, 1918.

"Signed and approved by the Mayor of said City of Frederick, Oklahoma, this 22nd day of January, 1918.

"Attest: Z. Z. ROGERS, Mayor.

"D. W. WOMACK, City Clerk."

Dr. Brooks, Federal Food Administrator for Oklahoma, approves the efforts of the cities to regulate food conservation by ordinance. "The conservation of food is a local and individual one," says Dr. Brooks. "City ordinances are backed by local public opinion. Such regulations are more effective and get at the heart of the matter much more quickly than regulation imposed from authority farther removed."

It is pointed out that patriots need no stimulus to observe the rules of the Food Administration; but the negligent and unparietic should be compelled to serve their country by saving and substituting foods.

Vessel Sunk.—The Cunard liner, Andania, was torpedoed and sunk this week by a German submarine. All passengers were saved, but several of the ship's employees lost their lives.

Indian Success.—On the Italian battlefield the Italians delivered a swift blow at the enemy this week, capturing a number of important strategic positions, fifteen hundred prisoners and a number of big guns.

FURTHER FOOD SAVINGS ARE CALLED FOR

Must Save One-Third of Wheat Consumption, With Further Denials of Meats and Oils.

The Food Administration is calling upon the American people to save this year an amount of wheat equal to one-third of the quantity used by them last year. It is calling upon them to save more meats, fats, and sugar. A guide to this saving is the new 1918 Home Card. This card is just published, and will be mailed to every person in the entire State who signed a food pledge last fall.

This Home Card will hang upon the wall of every kitchen to remind the housewives at every meal of the Nation's needs. Here are the provisions of the Home Card for 1918:

"The Food Administration asks every loyal American to help win the war by maintaining rigidly as a minimum of saving the following program:

"Have two wheatless days, Monday and Wednesday, every week, and one wheatless meal each day.

"On wheatless days and in wheatless meals of other days, use no crackers, pastry, macaroni, breakfast food or other cereal food containing wheat, and use no flour in any form except the small amount that may be needed for thickening soups or gravies, or for a binder in corn bread, and other cereal breads. As to bread, if you bake it at home, use other cereals than wheat, and if you buy it, buy only wheat bread. Our object is that we should buy and consume one-third less wheat products than we did last year.

"Have one meatless day, Tuesday, every week, and one meatless meal every day. Have two porkless days, Tuesday and Saturday, of each week.

"Meatless meals should be without any cattle, hog or sheep products. On the other days use mutton and lamb in preference to pork. Porkless meals mean meals without pork, bacon, lard or pork products, fresh or preserved. Use fish, poultry and eggs. As a Nation we eat and waste twice as much as we need.

"Make every fat day a saving day (butter, lard, and lard substitutes). Fry less. Bake, broil, boil, or stew foods instead. Save meat drippings. Use them and vegetable oils for cooking instead of butter. Butter has food values vital to children, therefore, give it to them. Use it only on the table. Waste no soap; it's made from fat. Be careful of all fats. Use less and waste two and one-half times as much fat as we need.

"Use fruits, vegetables and potatoes abundantly. These foods are plentiful and healthful, and at the same time partly take the place of other foods which we must have. Raise all you can for home use.

"Use milk wisely. Use all of the milk. Waste no part of it. The children must have whole milk. Use sour and skimmed milk in cooking and for cottage cheese.

"Anyone buying and holding a large supply of food now than in peacetime, except foods canned, dried or preserved in the home, is holding to defeat the Food Administration in its efforts to secure a just distribution of food and the establishment of fair prices. The food hoarder is working against the common good and even against the safety of the country. Hoarding food is selfish and is both selfish and unnecessary. The Government is protecting the food supply of its people."

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AT THE NORMAL SCHOOL

Beginning last Monday a school of gymnasium classes are being conducted that will provide two hours of gymnasium work per week for each student. Athletic instructor Tupper will conduct all classes. This work will emphasize features of military drill, correctional and developmental exercises, athletic sports, etc. The young ladies' classes will do some work in folk games as well. Each class of young ladies has been assigned a champion from among the ladies of the faculty.

Repairs to the gymnasium floor have been completed and new work is being begun at the first of next week. Basketball practice is also vigorously under way now by the candidates for places on the Normal team.

FROM CAMP TRAVIS

(Approved by Division Publicity Officer, Camp Travis, Texas.)

Among the features to be found at Camp Travis to give to the men opportunity for relaxation and self-improvement during the hours when they are "on their own," as the British say, is a substantial, conveniently located and well lighted library building, in charge of the American Library Association, under the auspices of the War Department's Commission on Training Camp Activities. The building is an attractive structure located near the camp post office, Y. M. C. A. Auditorium, and the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House. It now contains more than 15,000 volumes, many of them fresh from the publishers, and a large number of them given by generous donors individually.

Contrary to general expectation when the books were being collected, those that were given were found not to be "castaways," but, on the contrary, included good literature, put up in attractive bindings. The collection at this camp is larger than that at any other army camp, with the exception of Camp Lewis. It is desired, however, to further enlarge the supply at this place, and books intended for this purpose should be addressed to J. F. Marron, Librarian, Camp Travis, Texas. Mr. Marron was formerly reference librarian at the Texas State Library, Austin, and has a wide acquaintance among the men now in camp.

Tables and chairs are now on the way for use in the building, and as soon as they are installed the place will be open to the soldiers. Indeed, books are being let out now for use in barracks and quarters, magazines, general, technical and military, also being available. In addition to the work in the building itself, books are supplied to the various regiments of Y. M. C. A. buildings and to the Knights of Columbus building, all of which serve as branch stations in the issue of books to the men. Officers have remarked that the library system thus set in motion has served to cut down the number of requests from the men for passes to the city.

The folks "back home" can also be of use to the boys in khaki here by sending used phonograph records. The disk that has grown tiresome from repeated hearing, can for a few cents be mailed to some soldier lad at Camp Travis who will be delighted to receive it, as most of the companies have Victrolas or similar machines in barracks, and the larger the collection of records the greater the possibility, of course, of that form of entertainment. Records should be mailed direct to the men.

In the army the sign of civility, but not of servility, is the military salute. It has come to the present form from the days when knight-hood was in flower and when only those of gentle blood sprang to the contest to uphold honor, to keep chivalry untainted, and to carry to the ends of the earth the message of home. In days of old, knights when they met on the king's highway, or were ready for the tilt, gave the sign of fraternity to their fellow-knights by lifting the visor that shielded their eyes. By this sign they knew each other. While the visor is needed no more, its spirit dwells today in the military salute as it is now practiced, and by this sign soldiers give greetings to their comrades in arms.

When given by a soldier, a salute has its every element of lofty ideals, but when given by a civilian it is a usurpation of a soldier's right, of a soldier's prerogative," says Col. C. H. Conrad, Jr., who commands the 36th Infantry at Camp Travis. "A civilian is no more entitled to give a military salute in salutation either in greeting a soldier or when greeting a civilian than one who is not a Mason is entitled to display a Masonic emblem, or one who is not an Elk to wear the elk's head on the lapel of his coat. Now that thousands of young men have been called to the colors, and doubtless thousands more will in the future be called to the colors, there is a growing tendency on the part of civilians to make use of a half-baked military salute when exchanging salutations. When they do this they are violating a custom that is dear to the army. It possibly is due to ignorance. It may be due to a feeling of isolation. But whatever is the cause, a better understanding of the sacredness of the salute to soldiers should lead to a cessation of civilians indulging in such practices."

Mortar Battery to the Remount Station for a course of instruction as wagoner and teamster.

Roy C. Beeson of Utica, but till now a soldier in Battery D, 343d F. A. N. A., has been transferred to the Quartermaster's Corps and sent to Camp Merritt, New Jersey. Beeson has been acting corporal for some time. His wife has been residing in San Antonio while he was here.

Thomas A. J. Massey of Kemp has recently returned from the base hospital, where he was confined with a light case of the mumps. He is located in Battery D, 343d F. A. N. A.

Private Fred J. Stephens, formerly of Durant, has been acting as company clerk since Robert W. Thompson has started to the officers' training school. Mr. Stephens likes the work fine and hopes to be made clerk.

Private James H. Mathews was made happy recently by a visit paid him by his brother, Vestal.

Corporal Robert W. Thompson, formerly of Durant, was one from his company to be sent to the officers' training school. Mr. Thompson was company clerk, but the war needed him and he wanted to become an officer, and was recommended for the officers' training school.

URGENT SALE OF WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES

Banks of Durant Buying Liberty Bonds Advertising Space to Explain Merits of the "Bonds" for the Small Investors.

This issue of this paper carries a large advertisement, five columns wide by 16 inches long, which is paid for collectively by the four banks of Durant and the Durant Weekly News, to aid the local committee in the sales of War Savings certificates and Thrift Stamps in this county.

The war savings certificates have a number of advantages now offered with the regular Government bonds, and the Government has placed a limit on the amount any one person may invest in them. As has been often explained, thrift stamps may be bought for 25c each from any bank, the post office, and from many business firms, and these draw no interest. When the thrift stamp card, which holds 10 stamps, is full, the value is four dollars, and this card full of stamps, plus 13c, buys a war savings certificate or war savings stamp. This is then pasted on a card which holds 20 of them, and they draw interest. In 1923 the Government will redeem the card full of certificates at $5.00 each.

War savings certificates are redeemable in cash at post offices upon notice, but are not transferable from one party to another, and the card on which both thrift and war savings stamps are pasted have on them the owner's name.

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapepsin" Ends our Stomach Distress. Try It!

Wonder what upset your stomachs— which portion of the food did the damage do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sick, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented and turned sour; head dizzy and aches; belching gas and acids and eructate undigested food; flat foul, tongue coated— just take a little Pape's Diapepsin to help neutralize acidity and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have dyspepsia. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps the stomach sweetened and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quick, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin, which costs only 50 cent for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it stops fermentation and acidity and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.
